

Abstract (in conjunction with Figure 1)

A hinge-lid box for cigarettes, namely for a cigarette block (13), is designed, in the region of a lid (11) and in the region of a base wall (17) in each case, such that cavities, namely chambers (50), are formed on the inside. For this purpose, an end wall (21) and a base wall (17) are partially or predominantly rounded in order to space the end wall (21) or base wall (17) apart from the cuboidal cigarette block (13).
